These are to be announced at Monday's meeting. Yesterday there were several visitors at headquarters, asking when it would be possible to secure con-cessions for privileges on the grounds at the World's Fair.

'This will be probably the most important and sensational meeting of the Com-mittee of Two Hundred since its formamittee of Two Hundred since its formation," said Secretary James Cox yesterday.
"There are at present more than a hundred business men devoting eight hours out of every day to the work of winding up the popular subsert iden of $1500,000. With such a corps of workers nothing is impossible, and it is likely that something will drop Monday evening. It is hard, however, to predict, as each worker likes to keep unit what he has done so as to be able to announce a large amount at the meeting.

Church Property to Saloons.

Minneapolis, Minn. Dec. 38.—A Times special from Dubucue, Ia., says:

Archbishop Keane, since his appointment to the See of Dubucue, has taken strong grounds against the use of intexicants. On several occasions he has preached temperance sermons that would have delighted old John B. Gough, if he were alive, and itquor dealers are considerably worked up over his strong opposition to their traffic.

An extensive property on Seventh and Main streets, belonging to the church, is occupied by various tenants. Among them is a saloon, run by ex-Mayor Olinger. The lafter has been served with notice to vacate the property as soon as possible. The Archbishop says no property belonging to the church can be used for saloon purposes.

"BUM" THE CAUSE OF WAR IN THE PATCH,

Pat Cassidy's Terrier Stirs Up a Fight, Bites a Policeman and Escape.

Pat Cassidy's dog "Burn," a terrier and fighter, caused no end of trouble in Kerry Patch and Little Jerusalem yesterday afternoon. Bum is looking for trouble yet, and Pat Cassidy is looking for Burn. Morris Dalton, a roofer, living at No. 1117 North Ninth street, borrowed Bum and took him from the yard where he was chained, at No. III3 North Ninth street, to the bakery at Eighth and Wash streets. The

Arrived at the bakery, Cassidy went in for Bum, Dalton called out for Schepp. Schepp flew to him open-armed and double-fisted, backed by his bakers and his clan and his wrath. Dalton fought what he said was legion for three minutes steadly, then went to his corner. But his second had disappeared and he fled across the street to engine-house. No. 12, where he remained until with Schepp he was locked up by Otheer Murphy of the Fourth District on cross charges of disturbing the peace.

Sergeant McFarland then sent out Officer Bunting to locate Burn, even if he had to search all the dog houses in the Bloody Fourth. Officer Bunting found Burn in Schepp's cehar, and Burn found Officer Bunting in the calf. Then Burn found A headache at the end of Bunting's billy, after which he found safety in flight. Late last night Pat Cassidy was still looking for Burn, and so was Officer Bunting, and for vengeance.
